For the information of the Bureau and Washington Field, on 5/16/73, former Special Agent FRANK "SPADE" COOLEY telephonically contacted SA JOHN M. O'NEILL, JR. and apprised him of the fact that a person representing himself as JOHN HANORAN (phonetic), a reporter for the Washington Post, had telephonically contacted COOLEY on 5/15/73. COOLEY states that HANORAN made inquiries concerning a letter that COOLEY had written to ION NOFZINGER (phonetic). In that letter, COOLEY had informed NOFZINGER how President NIXON could "get out of the Watergate mess". COOLEY did not go into detail to exactly what he had advised NOFZINGER to inform President NIXON about. COOLEY advised that HANORAN had made inquiries as to who had put COOLEY up to writing this letter, what was his purpose for writing this letter, and was he doing so for some groups out in the Los Angeles area. U.S.A.

COOLEY advised that he informed HANORAN that he was doing all of this on his own volition. Los Angeles is

ARTHUR BLUM, 8861 Skyline Drive, Los Angeles, California was advised of the identities of Special Agents RICHARD H. PASHLEY and RONALD D. ANDERSON, and that he was being interviewed concerning calls he had made to the office of PAUL BARRICK, Finance Committee to Re-Elect the President, Washington, D.C. BLUM asked if this was concerning the call he had made "last night."

BLUM advised he is employed as a surveyor and for the Los Angeles City schools. In April 1972, he was telephonically contacted at his home by an unidentified male who sounded as if he were approximately 50 years of age. The call was person to person and sounded like it was long distance. The caller advised that he was calling for the White House, and that he was aware of BLUM's background, including his dealings with the Military Police and security work he had done while in the Army and later in the Air Force from which he was discharged. He told BLUM that he wanted him to do some work for the Republicans. BLUM advised that he had worked for the elections of JOHN KENNEDY, LYNDON JOHNSON and DWIGHT EISENHOWER, prior to EISENHOWER changing his party affiliation from Democratic to Republican. The caller said that BLUM would be expected to get information from inside the Democratic campaign organization in the Los Angeles area regarding the extent of their knowledge of the fund raising activities of the "Committee of Ten," which BLUM described as ten very wealthy Republicans in the Los Angeles area, including LEONARD FIRESTONE, President of Firestone Rubber Company, A.P. DIANINNI, of the Bank of America, the President of B.F. Goodrich, and the President of Hamm's Brewing Company. The committee was supposed to produce $18,000,000 in contributions for the Committee to Re-Elect the President. The caller advised that up to $500,000 had been allocated by the committee for this effort. He told BLUM that BLUM would be kept clean, meaning that his name would never be connected with this operation, and BLUM would not be paid. He furnished BLUM with the names of two people who the caller described as, "Middle of the road Democrats," who were unhappy with the direction the Democratic party was taking with respect to support for Senator MC GOVERN. BLUM advised he does not feel that he can furnish the names of these two people until he has had an opportunity to talk with them. The caller advised that these men could help in the hiring of other reliable people who could be trusted, and who could keep their mouths shut if anything went wrong.

At this point, BLUM was furnished with an Advice of Rights and Waiver form, which he read and signed stating that he understood his rights.

The caller asked BLUM what his wife's first name was and BLUM told him that it was BERNICE. The caller said that from then on BLUM would be referred to as B. BLUM. The caller furnished him with the name of FRED GLANTZ of San Francisco as a person to whom BLUM would deliver information developed. He was also furnished with San Francisco telephone number (415) 397-1137, which was to be called whenever he had information to report. It was explained to BLUM that upon calling this number arrangements would be made for the delivery of the information to GLANTZ. The caller also furnished Los Angeles telephone number 272-6611 which was to be called in the event BLUM had any trouble. He was given the impression that this was the telephone number of the Los Angeles FBI Office and that the FBI would take care of any problems he encountered.

Sometime later he was again telephonically contacted by the unidentified male caller who asked if BLUM had any information for them. BLUM advised that he did, and the caller advised that he would have it picked up. About 48 hours later, he received a telephone call from GLANTZ who made arrangements to meet BLUM at 9:35 a.m. on August 24, 1972. The arrangement was made for GLANTZ to meet him in a coffee shop, which they did. The only discussion they had during this meeting was about the weather in San Francisco which GLANTZ described as being very rainy and foggy. Upon sitting down at the table, GLANTZ put his newspaper over the 8½ inch by 11 inch manilla envelopes containing the information. After a short time, GLANTZ left, taking the envelopes with him.

He described GLANTZ as a white, male, 5'11" tall, 198 pounds, gray and white hair, heavy eyebrows, impeccably dressed in business suit, with a limp in his left leg.

These envelopes had been delivered to BLUM by someone leaving them on the driver's seat of his car, a Chevrolet Corvair, which he left unlocked in his garage. On four occasions he found envelopes delivered in this manner. When he would find the envelopes he would call the number in San Francisco from a pay phone in to which he would deposit 75 cents. The person answering the telephone sometimes answered indicating the name of a hotel, sometimes would say nothing, and sometimes would say, "Is this BLUM, ... have you got something."

On one occasion in July 1972, the week before President NIXON came to San Clemente in July, he was unable to get anything at the San Francisco number so he called SLOAN's Office in Washington, D.C. At that time SLOAN was Treasurer of the Finance Committee to Re-Elect the President. He spoke with a female he presumes was SLOAN's secretary, and she told him to contact Mr. ZIEGLER's Office at the San Clemente "White House." Upon calling ZIEGLER's Office he spoke with his secretary, who told him to deliver the information in writing to the San Clemente "White House." BLUM went there and told the Marine guard at the gate that he had something to give Mr. ZIEGLER. The Marine called inside and a man came out to the gate and accepted the envelopes from BLUM.

The week following this delivery, he talked to ZIEGLER's secretary, JUDY, last name unknown (LNU), telephonically at the San Clemente "White House" and told her that he had given the information to a man at the gate. She asked him to describe the man and after doing so, she said, "Oh," and hung up. He was unable to describe the man.

In early September 1972, after finding envelopes in his car and making the call to San Francisco, BLUM delivered another set of envelopes to GLANTZ at a coffee shop. On this occasion he saw GLANTZ come into the restaurant and got up from his table, leaving the envelopes on the table for GLANTZ to pick up. The two did not sit together this time. 1161 SKYLINE DRIVE,

LOS ANGELES, CAL MRS. ARTHUR BLUM
The last time he met with GLANTZ and delivered envelopes was in early October 1972. On this occasion he observed GLANTZ get out of a late model Cadillac limousine with several other people inside before coming into the restaurant. At this meeting he was assured by GLANTZ that money would be deposited into five accounts which BLUM had opened in Los Angeles in his wife's name, BERNICE BLUM, with a $500 insurance check. The money so deposited would then be paid out of these accounts to people who had worked to develop the information. GLANTZ advised this money would be paid into the accounts by October 31, 1972, by cashiers check, and would be paid out of the accounts to the people involved by cashiers checks so that there would be no way of tracing the funds. He offered to pay BLUM $8,650 for his services and expenses which BLUM declined. The money was never deposited to the accounts. BLUM does not know how it would have been paid out of the accounts.

When he called PAUL BARBICK's Office and said that CHAPIN and PAT knew about the money, he presumed that CHAPIN and PAT HARRINGTON, or HARRIGAN, who presently has CHAPIN's former job knew about the arrangements. He bases this presumption on a telephonic conversation he once had with SLOAN's secretary, sometime after June 17, 1972, when he was concerned that he might be implicated in the Watergate "Bugging." During this conversation she told him that SLOAN had other people "Who are right on the button," indicating that BLUM's name would never be brought up. D.C.

A week after the election he attempted to call telephone number 272-6611 and found that it had been disconnected. He had called this number several times previously, and the person answering the telephone had seemed to know who he was having commented on occasion "You are B. BLUM." He recalls that on one occasion he called this number after reading about the body of a 16 year old having been found in a HUMPHRY campaign office in Los Angeles. He called to find out whether any of his people had been involved, and was assured that they had not.

On one occasion as he was walking to his garage to go to work, he saw four men walking away from his garage towards their car parked up the hill from his front steps. These men got into a green Chrysler 300, with large round taillights and large fins, and drove off. He presumes these men had delivered envelopes, because there were envelopes on the front seat of his car that morning.

He recalls that on one occasion he met with GLANTZ at a Sambos Coffee Shop in the Valley, location not recalled.

Since the end of October 1972, he has received numerous telephone calls at his home from people who worked developing information inside the Democratic campaign organizations, asking for the money they expected to be paid. He estimates that ten different people have been calling him in this regard. He noted that his telephone number is listed in the telephone book, and by this means they have possibly learned his number. He does not know the identity of any of the callers.

He suspects that his telephone may be "bugged" because he has been having trouble with it. He has contacted the telephone company regarding this and they have checked it without finding any indications of a "bug."

ARTHUR BLUM, 8861 Skyline Drive, Los Angeles, was advised of the official identities of SA's JOHN M. O'NEILL, JR. and RICHARD H. PASHLEY. He was told that the agents desired to interview him again in order to clear up some details of his activities in behalf of the Republican Party. He was furnished with an Advice of Rights and Waiver Form which he read and signed, stating that he understood his rights.

BLUM displayed a Union Bank savings account passbook, Account Number 303-008726-0, in the name BERNICE BLUM, indicating a balance of $100.00, which he said he opened in November 1972; an Equitable Savings, Hollywood Branch, savings account passbook, Account Number 33-105078-9, in the name BLUM, opened in March 1969, with a balance of $297; and a Bank of America savings account passbook in the name BERNICE BLUM, Account Number 324-9-1845, with a $100 balance. He advised that he had two additional savings accounts, one with the Bank of California, Account Number 073-01354-3, in the name BERNICE BLUM, opened in November 1972, and a savings account with Home Savings and Loan, Beverly Hills Main Office, Account Number 04-135629-6, in the name BERNICE BLUM, which has been opened for years. None of the passbooks displayed revealed any large deposits or withdrawals, and he advised there had been none.

He also displayed a savings account withdrawal slip dated April 23, 1973, drawn on the Union Bank in the amount of $20,000. He admitted he did not believe there were sufficient funds to cover the withdrawal, but he would check to see if a sufficient deposit had been made to cover the withdrawal.

In June or July 1972, he was telephonically contacted at his home by an unidentified person who told him that he wanted BLUM to get information from inside the Democratic Party. BLUM was to find out what the Democrats knew about the collection of funds and the amounts of funds being collected by the "Committee of Ten," a group of wealthy Republicans. He was to receive the information in report form from unidentified people who would develop the information and drop it in BLUM's car. BLUM was to then meet one FRED GLANTZ from San Francisco.

The caller gave him two names of people working within the Democratic Party in Los Angeles who would recruit people to work for the Republicans. He has tried to recall the names of these people since his last interview with agents, but cannot recall their names, and does not know how he could contact them. The caller said that BLUM would be contacted later and given a number to call whenever he had information to deliver.

BLUM believes that he was contacted because he occasionally worked with the Military Police while in the Army and Air Force, as an enlisted man, and because he has taken courses in security at Los Angeles City College in an effort to get a job with the Los Angeles City School Security Force.

The evening following his conversation with the unidentified caller, he received a call from FRED GLANTZ who gave him telephone number 415-397-1137, and told him to ask for FRED GLANTZ at this number whenever he had information to deliver. He was also to tell the person answering the phone where he would be working the following day, and in which coffee shop to make the meeting to deliver information. He was told to call the number once every week, on Monday of the first week, Tuesday of the second week, Wednesday of the third week, and so on. He was told that after doing this, he would find an envelope containing information on the front seat of his car on the morning following the call. Throughout the following weeks, he found that this was exactly what happened. Occasionally he would find envelopes on the front seat of his car on mornings when he did not expect to find anything. On these days, he would call the number in San Francisco and would arrange for an additional meeting with GLANTZ. He recalls that he had ten to fourteen meetings with GLANTZ.

When he would call the number in San Francisco, the person answering the telephone would answer giving the name of some hotel or motel, BLUM would identify himself, and the person would say, "Where?" BLUM would tell him where the meeting was to be the next day, and the meeting would take place there.

The first time he met GLANTZ was in July 1972. He had arranged to be seated at a particular stool at the counter in the Sambo's Coffee Shop at Sherman Way and Whitset in the San Fernando Valley. During this meeting, GLANTZ said that everything being done was "clean" and was not connected with the Watergate matter. GLANTZ explained that "they" were just trying to protect contributors. GLANTZ told him that up to $500,000 was authorized to pay the people working on the project. The interviewing agents asked how many people were to be paid out of this amount, and BLUM advised that he thought there were twenty people. He was asked whether he thought this was an excessive amount, and he advised that GLANTZ said that it was not expected that the actual cost of the project would exceed $250,000. This was the extent of his conversation with GLANTZ on their first meeting.

Thereafter, the envelopes were exchanged by BLUM placing them in the sports section of a newspaper and leaving the paper on the counter of a restaurant as he saw GLANTZ sit down next to him. He would then depart without speaking to GLANTZ, and GLANTZ would pick up the paper.

In July 1972, BLUM called the "Summer White House" to check to be sure that what he was doing was legal. He was put in contact with ZIEGLER's secretary. She said that it was a legal operation, and that they could talk about it on the telephone.

In August 1972, he received a telephone call from an unidentified person who wanted to know when the money was coming through.

BLUM called the White House at telephone number 202-456-1414, and talked to a secretary named JUDY. She told him to call the Committee to Reelect the President, and gave him telephone number 202-333-0920. Calling this number, he asked for MAURICE STANS but was put in contact with a girl. He identified himself and told her that he would like to talk to STANS about California. She told him that STANS was not in but that she was his secretary. She put him in contact with a Mr. TALMAGE, and BLUM asked TALMAGE about the salaries for the people in California. TALMAGE seemed to know what BLUM was talking about and said that it would be taken care of.

A couple of nights later, in mid-September, he received a call at the beginning of which he heard someone say, "San Diego," and a male voice told him that "We still haven't received our pay." BLUM then called GLANTZ in San Francisco and arranged for a meeting the next day in a coffee shop. On that occasion, BLUM did not deliver any envelopes. He asked GLANTZ when the money would be paid, and was told by GLANTZ to be more patient.

He recalls that during a meeting in a coffee shop with GLANTZ during which envelopes were delivered in mid-August 1972, GLANTZ told him that MANNY STERNWIES was his inside contact within the Committee to Reelect the President, and a Dr. BAKER was the man who delivered money. BLUM noted that STERNWIES is a Chicago attorney who has disappeared, and BAKER was the man who gave Mrs. HOWARD HUNT $10,000 in Texas before she was killed in an airplane accident in Chicago and that BAKER has also disappeared.

His last meeting with GLANTZ was on the last Friday of the month of October 1972, and it was regarding the money for the people who had been doing the work. No delivery of envelopes was made on this meeting. At this meeting, GLANTZ asked him if he had some bank accounts into which money could be deposited, and BLUM furnished him with the account numbers which had been opened in his wife's name with a $500 check from an insurance company.

BLUM recalled that one morning while walking down the steps toward his garage, he heard his car door shut. Upon reaching the street, he saw four men walking up the hill toward their car in which they then left. Their car was a Chrysler 300 with large round tail lights and large fins. He is not sure but believes it was light blue in color.
